

Humanitarian
OpenStreetMap
Team

San Diego + Chicago Mapathon

Saturday, March 28th, 2015

American Red Cross of San Diego/Imperial Counties (3950 Calle Fortunada): 9:30AM - 12:00PM

American Red Cross of Chicago & Northern Illinois (2200 W Harrison St, Chicago): 11:30AM - 2:00PM

(the event will be simulcast live between the two Regions)

MISSING MAPS

Putting the World's Vulnerable People on the Map

To learn more visit:

www.missingmaps.org

www.hotosm.org

www.openstreetmap.org

Join us for the first mapathon organized by the Humanitarian OpenStreetMap Team and the Red Cross Regions of San Diego and Chicago. This event will introduce you to OpenStreetMap, the free map of the world, and the Missing Maps project, a collaboration between international humanitarian organizations to map the world's poorest and most vulnerable urban areas.

No previous mapping experience required!

You will learn how to use satellite images to create maps of anywhere in the world and help save lives!

For more information and to RSVP, please contact: Chicago: Jim McGowan at 312-848-6726 or jim.mcgowan@redcross.org

San Diego: Laura Horner at laura.horner@redcross.org or Cristiano Giovando at cristiano.giovando@hotosm.org