(Lunch Provided, first come first served)
UNO Math building, room 121

OpenStreetMap is an open source map of the world that is available free online. You can contribute to the map by adding in your favorite places, as well as download the map data and create your own local map. There are over 100,000 OpenStreetMap participants worldwide. Sign up and join us in improving the map in your area! www.openstreetmap.org

You can help! Join us in creating the best, most up to date map of New Orleans (and the world). To find out more come to our campus event or to a local mapping party. Come learn more about the new community-driven open-source map.
