Hi Andrew,

You are welcome to add the protected areas and transfrontier conservation areas to OpenStreetMap and we welcome the addition. I can also direct you www.protectedplanet.net in case you have not come across it.

We (colleagues) have actually tried to update protected areas in southern Mozambique but I see these are still incorrect, so I am going to take the opportunity to point them out:

- Zinave National Park is missing
- There is no such thing as 'Parque Transfronteiriço Gonarezhou'
- Maputo Special Reserve is missing
- Licuati Forest Reserve is missing

Kind regards,
Marina

Subject: Using Peace Parks map data to improve OpenStreetMap

Hello,

I am trying to find maps or data to add missing national parks and protected areas in

I am trying to find maps or data to add missing national parks and protected areas in Africa to OpenStreetMap, the free and open map of the world. I saw the map data at https://new-ppfmaps.opendata.arcgis.com/datasets/ppf::sadc-protected-areas?geometry=-99.365%2C-43.513%2C151.123%2C12.988 and https://new-ppfmaps.opendata.arcgis.com/datasets/ppf::sadc-tfca-boundaries?geometry=-7.992%2C-34.696%2C54.630%2C-21.155, and was wondering if I could use the data to improve the data on OpenStreetMap. I saw in the metadata that you ask people to reach out to this email address.

OpenStreetMap is used by many businesses, nonprofits, humanitarian groups, local governments and local organizations, and many national parks, protected areas and other features are missing or mapped incorrectly on OSM. I can also make sure that Peace Parks receives credit on the OpenStreetMap data contributors page as well.

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks!

Andrew
